GLORIA BRENNEIS WILL SOON BE TUNED IN TO COLOR TV presented by Gerry Belke (left) as Mr. Brenneis looks on

Gloria Brenneis lucky

Fifteen-year-old Gloria Brenneis of the Mearns district near Morinville, will be facing some tough decisions this week. As winner of the grand prize in the Grandin Shoppers' Park eighth anniversary draw, she'll have to decide between spending her time doing homework or watching color TV on her brand new Sanyo portable set.

Gloria learned of her good fortune Saturday evening, when she received a phone call informing her that her name had been drawn from the thousands in the barrel, to receive the TV set. Mayor Ray Gibbon made the draw at 5:30 p.m. Saturday in the Kaleidoscope Shop. He was presented with a bouquet of flowers for Mrs. Gibbon, in appreciation of his officiating at the ceremony.

Gloria, who is a grade 10 student at St. Albert High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brenneis. She enjoyed a morning off from school Tuesday to accept her prize from Gerry Belke, president of the Grandin Shoppers Park Businessmen's Association. Gloria said that she had won the odd thing in the past "but never anything like this." Her father was on hand Tuesday, to help her carry home her prize.

The draw climaxed a three-day anniversary sale promotion staged by merchants in the shopping centre. This is the eighth year in a row that such a promotion has been arranged with major prizes given away each year. This year's promotion was described by Mr. Belke as "very successful."

who has chosen as his topic "What the white paper on taxation means to the average citizen."

On hand to present a report will be Hon. Marcel Lambert, MP for Edmonton West.

Election of officers of the association will be held. Refreshments will be served.

Conservatives to meet

The annual meeting of the Edmonton West Federal Progressive Conservative Association will be held on Monday, May 25 at St. Andrew's United Church hall, 9915 - 148 St., Edmonton. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

The guest speaker will be William B. McMullen, CA,

Fireworks accident at Lions Park

A fireworks accident which could cost an 11-year-old St. Albert boy the sight of one eye, occurred around noon Saturday at Lions Park.

Robbie Wright of 13 Grandora Crescent is in hospital following the accident which occurred when he and his companions were roasting weiners at one of the barbecues in the park. Another boy who was passing the barbecue tossed a "blockbuster" into the flames, causing an explosion which damaged Robbie's eye.

The nine-year-old boy who threw the firecracker, stated that he had picked it up in the cookhouse at Lions Park.

Ken Wright, Robbie's father, reports that doctors are hopeful that the sight of Robbie's eye can be saved if hemorrhaging does not occur. It will be necessary for him to remain perfectly still in order to prevent this, he said. Mr. Wright states that his son will likely be in hospital for some time.

Town to apply for recreation grant

Council agreed Thursday to instruct town staff to look into the cost of paving the floor and providing some seating in the new St. Albert arena.

At the same time, it was agreed that the town should apply to the department of youth for a grant of $36,000, available for recreational facilities in the town.

Council had received an enquiry as to their intentions regarding the paving, from the Kinsmen Club of St. Albert which has recently announced it will provide the artificial ice in the arena. As the Kinsmen report they have had a delivery of three months quoted on the heavy machinery required for the artificial ice, they will require council's decision as to the paving by June 1.

On a motion by Councillor R. G. Wheatley, council voted to express appreciation to the Kinsmen Club for its interest and decision to take on the artificial ice project which will be of great benefit to the town.

Committee system should go - Mayor

Mayor Ray Gibbon has suggested to council that consideration be given to abolishing the two standing committees of council -- finance and public works, in an effort to speed up the business of council.

Mayor Gibbon stated that his suggestion was based on the fact that minutes of both committees are questioned and discussed at great length at council meetings, resulting in the waste of "a vast amount of time." He had advocated doing away with these committees in October of last year.

"I am again recommending that the two-committee system be cut out and we have, on alternate Mondays, committee of the whole meetings to discuss all problems of the town pertaining to public works and finance,"

he said.

General concern over the length of regular council meetings was again expressed by all members of council at Thursday evening's meeting. The regular Monday night meeting of council had to be adjourned until Thursday when only half of the lengthy agenda was covered on Monday.

Mayor Gibbon suggested that meetings should start earlier and allow for a lunch break of a half to three-quarters of an hour. He proposed a starting time of 5:30 with a break at 8:30. Meetings would be over at 11 o'clock.

Council voted unanimously in favor of referring the mayor's suggestions to the next meeting of the committee of the whole.

guides rough it

Approximately 100 guides and leaders from St. Albert looked on to buses Friday night for a trek to Lac Ste Anne where they spent the weekend at the St. Albert Parish Camp.

The trip was organized by Miss Pauline Vaugeois, district commissioner for Sturgeon and camp commandant was Mrs. Pat Dyck.

Girls enjoyed Saturday's high temperatures but Sunday's storm produced a few incidents such as tents blowing over. Three of the girls, Deborah Yeats, Janis Jobe and Yvonne Brostrom were successful in obtaining their pioneer badges for demonstrating their camping skills

After touring a dairy, a honey factory, the planetarium and the museum through out the term, both classes ended their preschool program May 15 by visiting the St. Albert Library and the firehall.

Robert Rundle school named

"Sir George Simpson Elementary School is now declared well and truly re-named and shall hereinafter be called Robert Rundle School."

With these words, Principal Frank Carnahan proclaimed the official change of name of the school in a brief ceremony attended by more than 400 people, Tuesday evening.

It was a joyous occasion with solemnity kept to a minimum and plenty of sparkling entertainment to appeal to both youngsters and parents alike.

Special guests at the ceremony, held in Sir George Simpson Junior High assembly area, were Charles Schroder, chairman of the Protestant Separate School Board, Jim Wiltshire, trustee, and Elmer Gish, superintendent of schools for District No. 6.

Mr. Schroder outlined steps leading up to the name-change, explaining that confusion with the junior high school of the same name had led the board to name Mr. Carnahan, Mayor Ray Gibbon and Mrs. R. Green as a committee to find a new name for the school. Over 75 entries submitted by students of Sir George Simpson Elementary School were judged by the committee and a final choice between two names was left up to the pupils.

The winning name of "Robert Rundle" was submitted by Sherry-Lynn Isert

Robert Rundle was the first protestant minister west of the Red River and as such, his name was judged to be a fitting choice for the school.

Mr. Gish made a presentation to Sherry-Lynn for submitting the winning name. He remarked that the ceremony was particularly significant in that the children were doing the re-naming and asked all the children present to be on the lookout for more good names which would shortly be required as the population of St. Albert increases and more schools are needed.

"You will have to watch carefully to see that Edmonton doesn't steal all the names," he cautioned the students.

Mr. Gish stated that heroism, courage and a spirit of sacrifice were characteristics shared by all the men after whom the district had named its schools and he hoped that the students would look for these qualities in choosing future names for schools in St. Albert.

No sooner had Mr. Carnahan officially proclaimed the school's new name than he put it to good use by calling on the Robert Rundle Glee Club to present their operetta entitled the "Magic Beanstalk."

From the opening curtain (a sign held aloft by curtain girl Caroline Bockholt) to the end of act three, the stage was a riot of color as the cast of close to 90 delighted their audience with the exciting story of sailor Jack, a properly ferocious giant and sundry other characters played with gusto by all those involved.

Anyone who might have dismissed the story of Jack and the Beanstalk as "old hat" was in for a surprise. The musical version of the old favorite had a lot of new twists that involved a glamorous gypsy fortune teller, a dancing cow called Juliana and a swashbuckling Captain Kidd with a motley assortment of pirates. There was even a magician who repeatedly assured everyone that he was a seventh son of a seventh son and who was able to pull a woolly yellow rabbit out of a top hat with ease. Bevels of gorgeously-gowned Dutch girls, Chinese girls and pirates danced and sang in separate chorus numbers. A bouncy group of "green beans" amazed everyone by growing miraculously skyward overnight.

In addition to the 80-member chorus, the cast consisted of David Larsen as Jack, David Adlard as Captain Kidd, Cheryl Forsyth as Jack's mother, Randy Nielsen and Randy Fisher as Juliana, the cow, Mitchell White as the announcer, Judy Nisbet as Gypsy Ann, Gordon Robinson as Foolemes, the magician and Valerie Pachal as Blunder Buss, the giant.

The whole atmosphere was one of fun and enjoyment for audience and cast alike. The enthusiasm with which the glee club presented its selections communicated itself to the members of the audience who greeted each number with resounding applause.

Accompanist for the production was Miss Betty Hainsworth.

Director Mrs. Hilda McFetridge was presented with a bouquet of red carnations by members of the glee club. Mrs. McFetridge thanked all

The fashion industry has its ups and downs - its hemlines and its necklines. The way things are going, in 1970 the two will pass each other.

DANCING ON THE GREEN

Grade one classes at Leo Nickerson school take part in the folk dancing festival

Nickerson stages folk dance festival

Sunny skies and light breezes combined Friday to supply perfect weather conditions for the outdoor folk dance festival presented by the students of Leo Nickerson school. The good weather was especially appreciated by both teachers and pupils as snowstorms earlier in the week had dimmed hopes that the outdoor event could be held as scheduled.

Approximately 150 parents and friends gathered on the lawn at the school to enjoy a series of dances presented by some 420 pupils from grades 1 to 6. The festival marked the completion of a special six-week unit of study in music. The dancers were under the direction of Mrs. B. Roberts who is the Grade 1 music teacher and Miss R. Prowse who is in charge of music instruction for grades 2 to 6.

An excellent variety of dances from many lands was presented. The grade 1 classes combined to present the Danish dance of greeting, an American dance, O'Susannah and the children's polka from Germany.

Grade two dancers presented a rousing version of the Virginia reel (American) as well as the Canadian Lancers.

Another version of the Virginia reel was presented by grade 3 pupils who also performed a Canadian dance entitled "Prairie Circle."

"Gathering Peascods," an English May Dance provided contrast to the Canadian dance, Maple Leaf Stomp. Grade 4 classes performed these two numbers.

Still another version of the popular Virginia reel was danced by grade 5 classes along with an appealing English maypole dance, Sellen-gers Round.

Grade 6 classes rounded out the program with their version of "Carding the Wool" and the favorite, "Irish Washerwoman."

A highlight of the afternoon program was a highland dance solo by Heather Rogers, a grade 6 pupil at the school.

Proceeds of $18 from a silver collection will be used toward the purchase of records or film strips for the music room at Leo Nickerson school.

New area named "Lacombe Park"

A new neighborhood is in the process of being created in the Mission Park area of St. Albert and town council at Thursday night's meeting was faced with the job of choosing a name for the area, as well as street names.

From a list of suggested names presented to council by Development Officer J. D. Roberts, a choice of "Lacombe Park" was made for the 120 acre development being undertaken in the Mission Park area by BACM.

Lambert Crescent and Laurier Crescent were chosen as the first two street names, although Councillor J. J. Bakker pointed out that there could be some confusion with Edmonton's Laurier Drive.

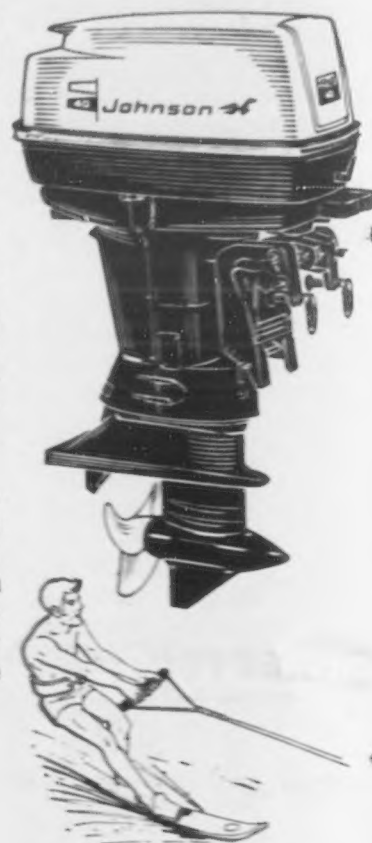

The other two neighborhood names suggested by town staff were Highland Park and West Covina Park. The vote was 5-1 in favor of Lacombe Park with Mayor Ray Gibbon expressing opposition.

For the one street to be named in Mission Park, council chose the name Marchand Crescent, in memory of Father Marchand who was killed in the Frog Lake massacre during the Riel Rebellion. He is now buried in St. Albert cemetery.

One collector road in the new neighborhood was named Dawson Road in honor of Mayor Dawson, elected in 1910. Referring to the practice of naming collector roads after mayors of the town, Mayor Gibbon remarked, "they're getting closer to me all the time."

Oakhill- an experiment that worked

"Here, boys have a chance to do unorganized -- but not disorganized -- things," says Rev. Ramsey Stuart of Oakhill Boys Ranch at Bon Accord. Boys who are a part of "this experiment in group dynamics and group therapy," as Rev. Stuart describes Oakhill, are encouraged to do their own thing.

"We try to keep supervision to a minimum, to let the boys develop their own individual feelings and tastes. We don't just sit and counsel a boy who's got problems, but encourage him to get moving and 'do things.' After he's done them he usually finds he likes doing them."

"We try to stay away from too many rules, to cultivate mutual understanding. A boy doing chores isn't doing them because he'll be punished if he doesn't, but because he knows it's his responsibility and he accepts it."

Rev. Stuart, known formally as the executive director of Oakhill Boys Ranch, but affectionately referred to as "Stu" by both adults and young people, admits that the project is his "be-all and end-all."

"Some people say that the Oakhill project is my obsession."

Rev. Stuart's "obsession" has paid excellent dividends for the 160-odd boys who have called the ranch home since the Oakhill Foundation was incorporated in 1961.

Boys have come from all parts of Alberta and the Yukon and have stayed for periods ranging from a few months to four years.

Located on a quarter section of rolling countryside, one mile south of the village of Bon Accord, Oakhill is a project conceived by Rev. Stuart, an Anglican priest who at one time was rector of Bon Accord, Gibbons and Redwater.

"I was impressed with the work one of my parishioners was doing in caring for three or four needy children, and I began to think perhaps we could undertake something like this as a parish project."

"Besides," he added with a laugh, "I figured I'd have a ready-made choir for my church."

The ranch was made possible through assistance from the government and various church denominations as well as through donations from individuals and organizations.

"It is to provide a financially or emotionally needy boys between the ages of 12 and 16 years, who can benefit from the family atmosphere, country living and self-discipline that comes from functioning as members of a peer group."

Two varnished-log ranch houses provide living quarters for the 18 boys presently at the ranch. At times since its inception, there have been as many as 24 boys living at Oakhill and plans for expansion would provide accommodation for almost twice that number.

When the project was first undertaken, Rev. Stuart envisioned separate group home cottages.

"When you've got 18 kids, however, they pick up their own friends and they're back and forth all the time," he explained. "It's really one big home now."

Boys take turns making breakfast and doing dishes. A weekly roster for house chores lets each boy know just what job he's on for the week. Chores range from cleaning up dining, living and bath rooms, emptying garbage and sweeping sidewalks and steps, to peeling potatoes for dinner.

In deference to the appetites of growing boys, what amounts to two dinners a day are served, with ample snacks between times.

The boys attend school in Bon Accord, although a special classroom is maintained at the ranch for those who require upgrading before they can be integrated into the regular school system. The teacher, from the provincial department of education, works under the Sturgeon School Division.

"Here at Oakhill, we recognize that everyone has problems, but we don't make a big thing of it," said Rev. Stuart. "We get on with the business of living. We pack so many things into the lives of these boys that they haven't time to get into trouble from boredom."

A number of the Oakhill boys excel at sports, both individually and as part of Bon Accord school teams.

Rev. Stuart stresses however that all extra curricular activities are not regimented. "A boy should be free just to sit on the bridge and look at the water, if that's what he wants." Part of a trailer, which also doubles as an office and guest room, is reserved for a music room, where boys can have jam sessions with instruments or records, without disturbing the whole ranch.

On an early-evening visit to the ranch, a crowd of boys was seen piling into a station wagon on their way to band practice. One lad revealed he couldn't make it because he hadn't finished his chores yet.

Another boy was getting ready to go for a dancing lesson while three others asked if they could go into Bon Accord for an hour or so, "just to walk around."

One of the younger boys, suddenly realizing he was on his own, wandered around the house asking "where is everybody?", before settling down in the living room to watch TV.

Bedtime is "around 10 o'clock" but there are no bells and no more regimentation than in any other family, Rev. Stuart explains.

Boys are involved in a variety of farm projects, including raising horses. This spring, they sold tickets on a snowmobile in order to raise funds to renovate an old stable to quarter their horses.

"The trouble is," said Rev. Stuart, "this venture didn't bring in the capital necessary to do the work so we're going to have to cook up something else."

Every few weeks, Oakhill boys join with young people from Bon Accord to work at a nearby chicken ranch, loading broilers onto trucks. Money earned in this way is banked by each boy, to be used toward the purchase of something special such as a bicycle.

"The earned dollar gives a boy self-respect and dignity and a feeling of standing on his own two feet," says Rev. Stuart.

"They also learn how to function in a group when they're working like this. The boys soon learn that if you can't hack it as an individual in the group, then you're not pulling your weight and the group suffers."

Rev. Stuart is assisted in the work of running the ranch by Rev. Anthony Steel, assistant director. Mrs. Elmer Johnson and Mrs. M. Coverly are house mothers while Mr. Johnson is farm manager and "strawboss" to the boys. Mrs. Deedman of Bon Accord comes out daily to cook dinner for the boys.

Much assistance is also provided on a voluntary basis. Jack Saxton, a member of the Edmonton police force is teaching the boys horsemanship. Dr. V. G. Korompay of Morinville provides veterinary service for the ranch, and in the process of treating the horses, teaches the boys a great deal about caring for them.

The Stuart's, who live on a bungalow on the farm, have four children. When the project began, they lived for the first two years in a trailer on the grounds.

Mementoes of former residents crowd the desk and walls of Rev. Stuart's office. He proudly displays pictures of "our" boys resplendent in their smart navy blazers which sport the Oakhill crest.

A painting by one of the boys who displayed a "remarkable natural talent" has a place of honor above the chesterside.

Boys who have "graduated" from Oakhill come back frequently to visit. "The first boy I ever had here is now a mechanic in Edmonton, and doing well," said Rev. Stuart.

He points out that the Oakhill project is far from complete and plans for improvements and expansion are always uppermost in his mind.

The public will have an opportunity to view Oakhill in June when the Oakhill Ladies Auxiliary will hold their strawberry tea at the ranch. It's slated for the afternoon and evening of June 24.

"This is the day when we show Oakhill off to people," said Rev. Stuart. "Of course, we like to show it off at any time of the year," he added. "The people are prepared to come out and find us like we are."

Medic Alert Plan Can Save Lives

The life-saving work of the Canadian Medic-Alert Foundation has been endorsed by the Life Underwriters Association of Edmonton who will sponsor a Medic-Alert information program throughout Edmonton during the month of May. The program is designed to make the public aware that every man, woman and child who has some medical problem, drug allergy, or disability should wear a Medic-Alert bracelet or necklace so that medical personnel, law officers, and others can recognize the particular problem in an emergency.

"There are more than 200 medical conditions which are not readily apparent and which can result in serious injury or death if not known in time of emergency," said P. J. Derksen, chairman, Edmonton Medic-Alert project. It is estimated that one person in five in Canada is in this category.

Life underwriters who, on a national basis, serve more than 11 million life insurance policy-owners in Canada are hoping to encourage those who have an unapparent medical problem to become members of the Canadian Medic-Alert Foundation in their own self-interest.

Members of the Medic-Alert Foundation are given a bracelet or necklace made of a stainless steel which contains a warning message engraved on the back naming the specific problems of the wearer, such as "Diabetes," "Allergic to Penicillin," "Wearing Contact Lenses," "Neck Breather" etc. On the front side appears in red the words "Medic-Alert" together with the universally recognized medical insignia used by the medical profession. Complete information is also issued in wallet certificate form to be carried by the member.

Medic-Alert Foundation also maintains a central file and accepts calls for information on a member from anywhere in the world on a 24-hour basis. Each medalion has a serial number engraved on the reverse side and also the telephone number of the central file.

"All members of the Life Underwriters Association of Edmonton are acquainting themselves with the program and how citizens of this community may register," said Mr. Derksen.

He pointed out that information and membership application forms can be secured from local life insurance agents or from The Canadian Medic-Alert Foundation, 174 St. George St., Toronto.

Danger increases for City Drivers

During the month of March traffic accidents in Alberta totalled almost 5,000 causing 718 injuries and 23 deaths. One quarter of the deaths occurred within the city of Edmonton.

Previously, the cities of Alberta have always enjoyed relatively lower death and injury figures than the rural areas. However, as speeds in the built up areas continue to climb, both legal and illegal, accidents of much more serious nature are occurring more frequently in urban areas.

The city of Edmonton, with about 25 per cent of the population of the province, accounted for more than 40 per cent of all reported accidents. Edmonton motorists also suffered over 30 per cent of the injuries reported, and more than 25 per cent of fatalities.

The fact that Edmonton's share of province's fatalities in March matched the city's share of the province's population - 25 per cent - indicates the odds are rapidly catching up to city drivers.

Throughout the province, March was marked by the continuation of the trend which has seen accidents increasing more than 10 per cent a year. Injuries are already 31 per cent ahead of the same date last year.

By the end of the first quarter, 67 people have died in traffic compared with 63 last year.

Citadel Tour "Fantastic"

According to City of Edmonton officials, the recently completed tour of the Citadel-on-Wings Company into the Northwest Territories was "a fantastic success beyond our wildest dreams."

"Quite apart from the enjoyment we were able to provide for nine northern communities" they stated, "the tour proved to be a marvellous educational experience for the students."

As members of the Citadel-on-Wings returned home again, principals and teachers of the schools they had visited were preparing a petition to the federal and territorial governments, requesting grants in order that the company might undertake an annual tour of the Territories.

MD considers fire protection requests

M.D. CONSIDERS FIRE PROTECTION SERVICE REQUESTS

Messrs. John Devereux, A. Speer and Frank Houle attended the April meeting of Municipal District of Sturgeon council in relation to fire service protection. Mr. Devereux was spokesman for the group and read a brief on various fire services for the area in the vicinity of Fort Saskatchewan, where they would be able to obtain fire protection services from the Fort Saskatchewan fire brigade.

They request council's consideration that no restrictions on fire service from the Fort be made to the Sturgeon area who are in the vicinity of Fort Saskatchewan provided that the people involved pay for said fire services directly to the Fort Saskatchewan fire brigade. He felt that the people living in the Lamoureux area or in the vicinity would be obtaining better services from the Fort Saskatchewan fire brigade and that of the Gibbons fire brigade because of the distance involved. Letter from the County of Strathcona was read at the meeting asking if this municipality would be interested in entering into an agreement with the County of Strathcona for providing services in that area.

The delegation was assured by the council that a committee of this council would be meeting with the County of Strathcona to discuss their request. The reeve thanked Mr. Devereux, Mr. Speer and Mr. Houle for having attended the meeting.

The secretary read a letter that he had received from the County of Parkland #31 re: fire protection services from the county to areas within the M.D. of Sturgeon. The county requested that an agreement be made between the two councils whereby this municipality would at all times keep a deposit of $100 with the county and agree to pay the rate of $45. for any one fire fighting unit and crew. This matter was discussed by council and the members felt that there was no need for such an agreement due to the fact that the municipality had a fire brigade in the town of St. Albert who would take care of the area along 156 Street which the County of Parkland were referring to.

Council moved that a letter be sent to the County of Parkland stating that this municipality has a complete fire service protection to all ratepayers and feels that there is no need for an agreement such as outlined in their correspondence.

Letter from the secretary treasurer of the Village of Gibbons was dealt in relation to emergency fire phones. The public works committee was authorized to go ahead with the installation of emergency fire phones at Gibbons.

POWER LINE NEAR NAMAO
The company estimated the cost of relocating 2.06 miles of line in the S.E. 6-55-24-4 to highway #28 would be in the vicinity of $13,800.

Mr. Stack and the secretary treasurer both inquired from Calgary Power if there wasn't an error made in their estimated cost. Their office stated that this was their actual estimated cost.

Moved that the public works committee carry out further negotiation with Calgary Power with authority to act on the relocation of the 2.06 miles of line.

RECREATION BOARD FINANCES

Hugh Rigney, chairman of the Sturgeon Recreation Board attended the council meeting on behalf of an appointed board committee in relation to recreation board activities and finances for 1970. A lengthy discussion followed on grants available from the department of youth and council suggested that the board take advantage of such grants without affecting the municipal mill rate. Council were of the opinion that the expenditures for the board should not require a mill rate especially for that purpose but that such expenses provided they are reasonable will be taken care of by the council in their budget. The council thanked Mr. Rigney for having attended the meeting.

ROAD REQUEST

Letter signed by John Elzinga and co-signed by 18 other ratepayers was read at the meeting requesting that reconstruction of a road running north and south between the N.E. of 23-56-23-4 and the N.W. 24-56-23-4. A copy of the request was given to Mr. Bevington councillor of the area, and the council asked Mr. Beving-the request and that John Elzinga be informed accordingly.

The council instructed the public works committee to investigate and to pursue its study on the maintenance of the evergreen road and submit its recommendation to council at the next meeting.

MORINVILLE

Secretary read a brief that had been prepared by the Morinville Board of Trade to the Alberta Liquor Control Board concerning the location of a liquor control outlet in the town of Morinville.

Moved that the Municipal District of Sturgeon support the brief as prepared by the Morinville Board of Trade for the location of the liquor control outlet in the town of Morinville.

PUBLIC WORKS

Superintendent Stack reported that 20,481 yards of gravel had been crushed in the M.D. lease pit, completing the Hopkins Construction contract. The public works committee was given authority to act on securing a gravel box for the municipal truck. Prices were in from three firms. Mr. Stack was authorized to purchase about $12,000 worth of culverts required for this year's road construction on an approximately equal basis from four firms okayed by council.

PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE

The public relations committee, having interviewed Mr. Walker, engineer with City of Edmonton, advised council that the city would be prepared to install water from 149 St. to 156 St. along 128 Ave. at the following costs:

- 1) Connection from city main to city limits-$970.
- 2) 12" pipe, hydrants, valve, etc. installed $34,200
- 3) Line to be located on shoulder of road - maintenance of road after installation if carried out by the city would cost - $2,400. If such maintenance is carried out by the municipality there would be no cost.

Stewart, Weir, Stewart, Watson and Heinrichs was heard re: water utility extension on 120 Ave. between 149 and 156 St. The cost estimates were more or less in line with those of the city of Edmonton except for the service connections of an additional $3,000 miscellaneous - $3,430 for a total of $44,000. Mr. Watson suggested that frontage available is approximately 4,860 feet which gives a cost per front foot of $9 per foot.

The council was of the opinion that the $40,000 expenditure for water utility extension be appropriated in the following manner:

- 1) South of 128 Ave. - $10,000;
- 2) North of 128 Ave. - $20,000;
- 3) The balance of the expenditure to be more or less borne by the municipality.

Council authorized the public relations committee to enter into an agreement with the city of Edmonton for 1) the supply of water to the area in question.

2) For the construction of a waterline on 128 Ave from 149 St. to 156 St. as per their quotation.

Council moved that the recovery of the $40,000 capital expenditures for water installation of 128 Ave. between 149 St. to 156 St. be recovered on the following basis.

- 1) $10,000 from the area south of 128 Ave. based at $5 per front foot.
- 2) That $20,000 from the area north of 128 Ave. be paid by the developer of the area in question.
- 3) The balance of the expenditures for such water installation be borne by the municipality.

President Don Hayden (right) of the St. Albert Fish and Game Association and Larry Mitchell of The Gazette, inspect a mail box owned by district farmer Doug Smith.

The Editor:

On checking my fields this spring I came across this mail box. It was so mutilated, one could hardly recognize it as such.

However the name was still visible - the owner being 2 1/2 miles from here, told me it was missing for quite sometime and was at a loss for words, why anybody would do a thing like this, having no enemies that he knew of. Breaking a 2 x 6 off this post must have taken considerable effort not to mention the work done to the box. Let us not wonder why we have no trespassing signs posted by farmers. This sort of destruction is plaguing a good many farmers in my area. Besides shooting insulators and any kind of sign that would make a target.

Being a member of the St. Albert Fish and Game Association, and director of farmer-hunter relations, I would like to bring this to the attention of our readers.

Anybody having similar troubles contact us. We may be able to help you contact the proper authorities and would be glad to help you ourselves if at all possible. Our association deplores things of this nature as we stand for good relations between urban and rural people. Let us help you, by helping us.

Camilla athletes honored

Over 300 residents of the district attended the Camilla sports dinner, held May 1 at the Camilla gymnasium. The top athletes of the school and the most improved athletes received individual awards, presented by various guests at the head table. Head table guests included Hec Gervais, Canadian Brier champion, Roger Bourbonnais, once captain of the Canadian National team; Rollie Miles, Eskimo football player, who won births on eight all-star teams, and who is president of the Alberta Schools Athletic Association Willie Littlechild, top native Canadian athlete of the year; Ken Schneider, O. Broemeling, F. Robinson, Terry Jones, sports editor for the Journal; Bob Hudson, master of ceremonies, Ron Mikulin, Reg Austin, John McDonnell, Ray Miles, and Keith Everitt MLA.

Several achievements were mentioned about the Camilla school. It has many top athletes as they won the track and field meet, doubling Morinville and Legal in points; they won the boys' volleyball trophy for Sturgeon, and tied first in the girls' volleyball. In wrestling, Camilla students won the Northern Alberta championship, and two weeks later walked off with the provincial wrestling trophy for the second year in a row.

Bob Hudson, master of ceremonies, was at his best as he entertained the audience with his wit, humor and 110-pound body. Can you see Hudson between Mikulin and Gervais, both weighing 285 pounds?

Wrestling trophies went to Terry McRae, David Kluthe, Darrel Stewart, and Edward Paquette. They received these trophies for training extremely hard, for not missing a practice, and for being true sportsmen, on and off the wrestling mat.

In girls volleyball, Eileen Kolesar and Faye Brenneis received the most valuable player awards. Gail Hermanutz and Louise Schafers were given awards for the most improved players. In boys volleyball, Walter Cust and Terry Whitson received the most valuable player awards, and most improved player awards went to Eddie Dhoedt and Henry Kleffenbeld.

In girls basketball, Violet Brenneis won the award for the most valuable player, and Linda McGillis for the most improved. Bernard Schafers was awarded the trophy for the most valuable player, and Laurier Girard for the most improved.

Camilla would like to express its thanks to the following: Miss Fisher, and her art classes for making the decorations for the evening and to the ladies in the communities who helped in the ordering, preparing, and serving of the delicious meal. Special thanks are given to Mrs. Pricilla Schafers, Mrs. Kluthe, Mrs. Dhoedt, Mrs. A. J. McDonnell, and Mrs. J. Arlow.

Villeneuve fastball draw

Winners of the Villeneuve men's fastball club's three cheers draw have been announced as follows:

Texas style - M. W. Romanuk, Musidera, Alberta; small cheer (second prize) - Judy Pepper, Edmonton; small cheer (third prize) - E. Scott, Edmonton.

The draw was made at C. J. Klak's general store in Villeneuve, May 15.

The fastball club would like to thank all of those who took part in selling tickets.

Saints win tourney

St. Albert Willowbrook Saints travelled to Mayerthorpe over the weekend and won the annual Mayerthorpe Mustangs tournament with a 19-11 victory over Mayerthorpe in the final game.

Strong pitching by Bud Pylluk and reliefer Hank Reinbold gave the Saints the opening game win over Barrhead Cardinals 9 - 4. Larry Mitchell led the Saints hitting with three singles and a double. Chester Cunningham, Arnold Bailey, Ray McMillan and Rich Perrault added two hits each.

In the Saints second game they posted a 12-5 win over the Legal team. Fred Resler was the winning pitcher going all the distance and striking out five batters. St. Albert picked up eight hits with Zen Roskewich hitting the first home run of the tournament and picked up a prize of $10. Chester Cunningham and Rich Perrault each picked up two hits.

The final win against Mayerthorpe was a sweet revenge for Saint's coach Bob Mulloy as Mayerthorpe took first place money last year in the St. Albert Lion's tournament with an 8-7 win over St. Albert.

Ray McMillan started on the mound for St. Albert and was the winning pitcher. St. Albert struck for two runs in the first inning and one in the second. Mayerthorpe got one back in the second as did the Saints for a 3-1 lead. The Saints scored two runs in the fourth and fifth inning before jumping on the Mayerthorpe pitchers for six runs in the sixth for a 13-2 lead. Mayerthorpe came back with six runs in the sixth.

The Saint's Rich Perrault socked a long homerun in the ninth inning.

Due to the severe weather conditions the two clubs were forced to change pitchers frequently and Wayne Biggs and Fred Resler pitched the last two innings for St. Albert.

Library demand and services grow

Information on Australia for social studies, jungle animals or a murder mystery for late night reading, St. Albert's Public Library has an ever widening selection for the town's 10,500 residents.

With $9,500 available this year for new books, the present collection of 11,000 books will be substantially increased.

But one of the main concerns of the library board and staff is that more people become active and make use of the services the library offers. One in four of the town's residents are members.

The board is working to make the library, adjacent to the town hall, better known. The chairman is Robert Green, a geologist with the Alberta Research Council, who succeeded Mrs. Margo Johnston earlier this year. She remains a member of the board.

Other board members are: Mrs. Anne Hapchyn, Mrs. Margaret Lancaster, Chuck Tennant, Jack Williams and Frank Dolphin.

The staff of three is headed by the custodian, Mrs. Anna Hesse.

The present book-buying program calls for major additions to all sections, but there is emphasis on building the children's collection.

A program designed to motivate children to make use of their public library has been started on a volunteer basis by Mrs. Peter Hapchyn assisted by Mrs. Robert Green and Mrs. George Stedelbauer. All of the kindergartens and elementary schools in the town have been invited to make class visits to the library.

On a visit the children are shown how to make best use of the library, such as the reference and non-fiction sections which offer general information and supplementary reading for their school studies. They are introduced to the wide range of story books available for their level of reading, and an effort is made to convey to them the excitement and joy in reading good books. The children are also encouraged to write book reviews and make posters. The best of these will be displayed in the library.

A recent survey by the Faculty of the School of Library Science, University of Alberta, indicated that this emphasis on the needs of children is important because 50 per cent of the population is under 19.

During the past year, the reference section was increased by the purchase of World Book-Child Craft, Canadiana and Encyclopedia Britannica.

These were made possible by the donations of eight commercial firms totalling $470: Northwestern Utilities, Canada Safeway, Tam-blyn Drugs, Sunwapta Broadcasting Silverwood Dairies, Edmonton Journal, Trudeau Cleaners and the Bruin Hotel.

Groups, companies and individuals are encouraged to make contributions to expand the various sections of the library.

The library subscribes to at least 22 magazines which are available in a rack near the reference section on the main floor.

The lecture room, with a movie projector and coffee facilities, is available to local groups looking for a meeting place. It is already heavily booked with the demand growing.

The library is currently open 18 hours per week:

Monday evening - 6:30 to 9; Tuesday evening - 6:30 to 9; Wednesday afternoon 2 to 4 p.m., Wednesday evening 6:30 to 9; Thursday evening 6:30 to 9; Friday evening 6:30 to 9; Saturday afternoon - 1:30 to 5.

Individual library members are $1 a year, permitting the borrowing of three books at one time. Family memberships are $2 per year with five cards issued.

The St. Albert Public Library Board next month will start conducting a survey to determine library needs in this community. All borrowers will be asked to fill out a questionnaire when renewing their library membership, to help in this study.

The board hopes to check on present and anticipated reading needs; on whether the current hours of library operation are the best or whether the library should be open immediately after school and at other times; on whether the library services should include such items as films and talks, and a story hour for preschoolers.

And particularly, as the library exists to serve everyone in St. Albert, the board and staff wish to receive requests for books that you would like to read but which are not in your library.
